County Stores generally. [JUNE 9, 1897.]

MANHOOD—
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. C. C. Abbott's celebrated Essay on the radiation of the Seminal fluid (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA, or the Seminal weakness, involuntary Seminal emissions, nocturnal and diurnal, and the various ailments, impurities, and impediments to marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, LEPROSY, and other diseases, induced by self-indulgence or excessive cohabitation.

PRICE, in a sealed envelope, only five cents.

The celebrated author, in the admirable essay, not only demonstrates, from a fifty years' successful practice, that the disease is not a venereal one, but that it is not actually cured without the dangerous use of formal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a more rational and more successful method of cure, by means of which every sufferer, no matter how long he may have been afflicted, can cure himself cheaply, safely, and radically.

NOTE—This Lecture should be in the hands of every man, and every young man, who is afflicted with Sem. under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address postpaid, on receipt, on receipt of six cents, or on receipt of a note or check for the same amount. Price 25 cents. Address the publishers.
